WHIRLWIND FINISH OF MORRIS CAMPAIGN NOW BEGUN FROM MADISON

LEADERS JOIN IN OLD TIME BATTLE OF LA FOLLETTISM

Senators Scott and Skogmo Join Forces to Press the Issues in Fight for the Senatorship

OPEN MADISON HEADQUARTERS

Leaders Rush Schedule for Morris Speeches and Automobile Tour Begins With Snap and Vim

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 5.—A whirlwind finish for Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris' campaign for the republican nomination for United States senator was begun in this city in a series of important steps taken yesterday.

Madison headquarters were opened in the La Follette's Weekly building. Senator George E. Scott took charge. Within ten hours Morris had been looked for speeches in eleven counties, and before night he had departed on an automobile speaking tour, accompanied by prominent La Follette leaders.

Scott Urges Morris. In opening the headquarters Senator Scott gave out an interview in which he said the only course open to progressive republicans is to nominate Mr. Morris, pointing out the "dual alliance" between the stalwart republicans and stalwart democrats and the menace of the bull moose idea of legalizing the trusts.

In the Madison headquarters there have gathered about Mr. Morris a group of strong progressive leaders the leadership of whom in this campaign is conceded to Senator George B. Skogmo of River Falls. They will work with Morris for the progressive cause until the primaries.

Skogmo's Warm Praise. Morris made his first speech on this tour at Fair Oaks last night. He was preceded on the platform by Senator Skogmo, a young Scandinavian who was a bulwark of strength for progressive legislation in the last legislature. He referred to Mr. Morris as "a statesman of manlike caliber" who "has faithfully served the people of the state" who "is loyal to the highest American ideals." One of his opponents a reactionary, the other a bull moose who "broke faith with the people of the state at the Chicago convention," he declared that of them all Mr. Morris "is the only progressive republican candidate."

To Tax Swollen Fortunes. At Barneveld Mr. Morris devoted himself to discussion of an inheritance tax "that will break up swollen fortunes which are becoming a menace to the liberties of American citizens." Such a tax, he showed, would relieve the great mass of taxpayers by furnishing a great government revenue from wealth so hoarded as to be a menace.

War Bulletins

ROME, Aug. 5.—Germany has now demanded that Italy live up to her treaty obligations. The German ambassador today formally notified the foreign office that Germany had been attacked by France and England and that it expected the aid pledged in the treaty. The cabinet immediately met to consider the appeal but it is believed that Italy will continue to try to maintain her neutrality.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 5.—Germany has violated Holland in an attempt to rush troops across to aid in the invasion of Belgium. Fierce fighting is in progress, the Dutch troops falling back slowly before a heavy German advance. The losses on both sides are heavy.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 5.—The Russian Black sea fleet is bottled up and will be unable to participate in the war. The Turkish government issued an official declaration today, announcing that the Bosphorus has been closed to the warships of all nations and that any attempt to force a passage will be frustrated.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The admiralty has issued orders to all warship commanders to search shipping for contraband of war. The Hague regulations with respect to what is contraband will be strictly observed.

TOKYO, Aug. 5.—Japan will respect her treaty obligations with Great Britain. The cabinet announced that while an attitude of strict neutrality is to be observed for the present, should England become involved so that Japan's aid would be necessary in accordance with the treaty, that aid will be extended.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The admiralty this afternoon officially confirmed the report that a mine laying ship had been sunk by the Germans and that the destroyer Pathfinder had a narrow escape from capture.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—There has been a general seizure of German merchant vessels in every British port and more than a score of vessels, some of them very valuable are now held as prizes.

A French gunboat today brought a big German trans-Atlantic steamer whose identity has not yet been learned, to the Island of Guernsey, as a prize.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—A mob today stormed the German consulate here, tore the big double eagle from above the door and trampled it in the street. The glass in all doors of the consulate was broken and furniture demolished. It is reported that Herr von Eltinger, the German consul, who is a naturalized British subject, has resigned and thrown his fortunes with his adopted country.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 5.—It is officially announced here that German forces have repulsed the Russian cavalry brigade near Solda. The Russian losses are reported to have been very heavy.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 5.—Belgian artillery is keeping the German invaders from bridging the River Meuse north of Vise. As a result the German advance is reported checked everywhere in Belgium.

FRANCE WINS FIRST IMPORTANT BATTLE IN MEDITERRANEAN

TOULON, France, Aug. 5.—France has won the first important sea battle. Trapped by French and British squadrons in the Mediterranean the German squadron comprising the scout cruiser Panther, the dreadnaught Goeben and the cruiser Breslau, fought vainly to escape. The Panther was sunk and the other two war crafts were captured.

After bombarding the French fortified towns along the Algerian coast the Germans steamed toward Gibraltar. A British fleet which had put out from Malta headed them off and they doubled back toward Algeria. The French battle squadron which had been sent to protect Algeria interrupted them and the battle followed. The Panther, a small cruiser with minor armament, was riddled by the French fire and a shell exploded in her magazine practically blowing her to pieces with the loss of most of her crew. The Goeben fought for some time but her machinery was finally disabled and she struck her flag. The Breslau attempted to escape but was overhauled by two French cruisers and after a short sharp engagement also surrendered. The German casualties are reported heavy but details of the French losses are withheld.

PARIS REJOICES OVER VICTORY OF FRENCH WARSHIPS

News of Defeat of Germans in Mediterranean is Signal for Outbursts of Wild Enthusiasm

ARE STRICTLY UNDER MARTIAL LAW

All Citizens must Stay in Houses After Eight O'clock and Looters are Court-martialed

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The French embassy tonight announced that France has captured another German cruiser. It is believed that the French fleet cut off one of the German North sea scout cruisers and forced it to surrender.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Announcement of the victory of the French fleet over the Germans in the Mediterranean was made this afternoon. It was the signal for an outburst of wild enthusiasm and for demonstrations throughout the day. Coming

Santos-Dumont Volunteers. PARIS, Aug. 5.—There was a wild scene at the railroad station when M. Santos Dumont, who has volunteered for aerial service, departed for the front today. An enormous crowd gathered and he was literally mobbed by men and women, embracing and kissing him. The addition of the Brazilian aviator to the French aerial fleet is a distinct acquisition. He is admittedly one of the greatest experts on aviation alive, and will probably be put in charge of a section of the aviation corps.

Immediately after the success of the French over the German Uhlans on Monday the news of the victory was accepted as a happy omen. The admiralty is endeavoring to get particulars of the battle.

France was today engaged solely in the serious business of war. The people are forbidden to leave their homes after eight o'clock at night. It was not until today that Paris could voice its approval of England's declaration against Germany and it was then with the realization that the greatest war of all times was beginning.

There were parades through the streets in which the tri-color and union jack were carried entwined, but the wild abandon of the usual Paris crowd of celebration was missing. The last spark of smouldering hatred for Germany was fanned into flame by the message of President Poincare read to the chamber of deputies by Premier Viviani.

"Germany tried treacherously to surprise us during diplomatic conversations, but France was watching," the president declared.

The message of the president was greeted with the wildest cheering. Deputies called for the immediate enactment of war measures and promptly confirmed all steps taken by Poincare and his ministers. Legislation for the extension of all credits was enacted.

"France has suffered from the brutal premeditated aggressions of

BERLIN HUNGRY AND GOVERNMENT MUST FEED CITY

Magistrates Call Meeting to Appropriate Million and Half Dollars of Funds For Food

WAR SPIRIT REMAINS UNDIMMED

People Praise Reichstag's Vote of One and a Quarter Billions for War Purposes

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Scarcity of food here has reached such a stage that a call was issued today for a meeting Thursday of the city magistrates at which an appropriation of $1,500,000 will be voted for purchase of supplies. The government will distribute the food through municipal stations.

The war spirit is undimmed here. The reichstag's action in voting one and a quarter billion dollars for a war fund, without a dissenting vote was favorably commented on by the people, all of whom are cheerfully preparing to pass special war taxes.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The German ambassador will return home on a British cruiser. This was officially announced today. There are no steamers available and he will be transported to his home country on a warship after arrangements have been made so that it will not be attacked by the Germans enroute. It is also stated that he will not leave until tomorrow.

WALTER B. ROSE SAFE ON U. S. SOIL

George B. Rose, Sr., this morning received a telegram, dated New York City, from his son, Walter B., stating that he had arrived safely in New York with the steamer Vaterland.

"Just got out in time via Belgium," read the telegram. Mr. Rose informed his father that Mr. Louis Kuehn and wife, the latter a daughter of George B. Rose, were still in Germany.

Mr. Rose leaves New York for La Crosse Saturday.

CONGRESS VOTES BIG RELIEF SUM

Two and a Half Millions of Dollars to be Expended to Bring Back U. S. Citizens Abroad

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—For the relief of its citizens stranded abroad the United States congress today appropriated $2,500,000. The sum will be used to defray the transportation expenses of Americans now in Europe and to relieve suffering, which inability to get cash has brought upon them.

The cruiser Tennessee will sail from New York tomorrow, taking with it a big supply of gold for the relief of Americans. It will also have a corps of American agents to help the American consuls and diplomats in caring for United States citizens stranded abroad. The armored cruiser North Carolina will probably follow the Tennessee within two days, with additional relief supplies.

Secretary of War Garrison announced that his present plan for getting Americans out of Europe, contemplates an endeavor to obtain neutralization of one port of exit, or a plan of sending the Americans into such neutral territory as Spain or Italy.

WILSON OFFERS GOOD OFFICES TO EUROPE AS MEDIATOR OF WAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—President Wilson today offered his good offices to mediate in the European war situation.

He sent the following message to the emperor of Germany, the czar of Russia, the emperor of Austria-Hungary, the president of France and the king of England:

"As official head of one of the powers signatory to The Hague convention, I feel it to be my privilege and my duty, under article 3 of that convention, to say to you in a spirit of most earnest friendship that I should welcome an opportunity to act in the interest of European peace, either now or at any other time that might be thought more suitable, as an occasion to serve you and all concerned in a way that would afford me lasting cause for gratitude and happiness."

"WOODROW WILSON."

The president's message to the foreign governments was given to the embassies of the foreign nations involved, for transmission to their home governments.

The first of the week the administration was disinclined to offer its good offices, believing it would be more successful to wait until after some decisive crisis such as an enormous battle before taking the step. The enormity of the war crisis, however, determined President Wilson that it was his duty to make this effort to clear the war atmosphere of Europe.

The message leaves the way open, in case of present refusal, for negotiations in the future.

GERMANS FAIL TO CARRY LIEGE FORTS BY STORM

BRUSSELS, Aug. 5.—The Belgian forces are reported to have won a sweeping victory near Spa, the famous Belgian watering place. Two regiments of Germans are said to have been decimated during the engagement.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 5.—It was officially announced that the Belgian forces have effectively checked the German advance. The attacking forces have suffered heavy loss while the Belgian casualties were few. The city is aflame with the war spirit and even the women are demanding that they be enrolled in defense of the nation. It is announced that King Albert will take the field in person as soon as the war measures are completed.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 5.—The Belgian forces have checked the German advance with very heavy losses on both sides. The German army of Cologne crossed the Belgian frontier at Gemmenieh. Divided into two columns it advanced against Liege and Namur. The heaviest fighting was in the attack on Liege where a German force of 50,000 was engaged by Belgians of half that number. The Germans attempted to carry the entrenchments by storm, but were repulsed by a withering artillery fire leaving many dead and wounded.

The Belgians had mounted machine guns along the railway line. After falling back the Germans hurriedly entrenched and mounted artillery with which they are now bombarding Liege from a half circular position extending for eight miles.

The towns of Vise and Argemene have been burned by the Germans. The fight at Liege will be long continued as this is the strongest point in all Belgium. The defenses comprise twelve forts on the outskirts of the city all equipped with modern artillery.

British and French troops were invited to come to the aid of Belgium in driving back the German army in an order issued by King Albert today. The order permits the operation of the armies of France and England on Belgium soil.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license was issued this morning to Miss Agnes Arenz, 1410 South Seventh street, daughter of Joseph S. Arenz, to marry Mathew H. Stoll, 1318 Jackson street.

WAR AT A GLANCE

ENGLAND.—Army mobilized. More fighting in the North Sea off Scotland and Yorkshire; main battle fleet steaming toward German coast with orders to "capture or destroy" German fleet; food shortage evident, poor suffering.

FRANCE.—Enormous invading German army already across frontier headed for Paris engaged by French in skirmishing preliminary to general battle; Mediterranean fleet has sunk German cruiser, captured dreadnaught and cruiser.

GERMANY.—Kaiser, battling with England, France, Russia, Holland, Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro, getting little assistance from Austria, which is pressed by Russia and Serbia, has appealed to Italy to assist him. Fully 5,000,000 men are under arms.

RUSSIA.—Invading Austria, and Prussia. War fleet bottled up in Black Sea and Gulf of Finland, mobilization proceeding very slowly.

AUSTRIA.—Army unable to penetrate Serbia; now menaced with Russian invasion.

BELGIUM.—Entire frontier devastated by overwhelming German army but holding invaders in check at Liege; bloodiest fighting of war in progress here with hundreds killed and wounded.

JAPAN.—War fleet coaling, will strike in aid of England should the fighting spread to far east.

HOLLAND.—Germans attempting to cross country attacked by Dutch troops on borders; dykes will be cut and country flooded should invasion continue.

ENGLAND READY TO SEND ARMY TO BELGIAN AID

Believed First Move of Land Forces Will be to Cross the Channel to Rescue

FLEET MAY NOW BE IN ACTION

Combing North Sea With Orders to Capture or Destroy the German Navy

KITCHENER TO LEAD THE TROOPS

Popular Demand is That the Hero of Khartoum Take Supreme Command of Army

BY ED L. KEEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) LONDON, Aug. 5.—Britain's interest centers tonight on the North sea. Her fleet is steaming against Germany's and a toll of death and destruction that will stagger the world is only a question of hours. Admiral Callaghan is not hampered by orders. He is to "capture or destroy" the German fleet and has already started on his task.

To date, what fighting has occurred has been between scout cruisers of the aival powers and between destroyers. England has lost a mine laying vessel. Whether Germany has suffered in the sea is known only to the admiralty. The battle to come will take place almost in German waters. The great German war fleet, nearly the equal of the British, is reported near the mouth of the Elbe, waiting. On a "mother ship" is reported to be a number of aeroplanes lined up at the launching platform. On shore are a fleet of dirigibles. Germany plans to help her sea forces from the air and will try to blow British warships out of the water by raining high explosives.

French warships are also reported in the channel and in the North sea. Presumably they have already effected a junction with their British allies. The news of the initial French success in the Mediterranean when a German cruiser was sunk and two warships captured, is expected to stimulate the French to take daring risks.

Many German merchantmen have been taken as prizes in British harbors. Others on the high seas are in danger of capture.

Army to Belgium

There is equal activity on land. The mobilization of the army is complete. It was the fastest in England's history, and the entire home army can take the field either to repel invasion, or to invade itself, after an hour's notice. It is expected British troops will be sent to Belgium should King Albert's forces be unable to withstand the enormous German army moving against it.

It is understood that the war office believes this to be the best way to use the army. The Belgians are holding the Germans in check, but are likely to be overwhelmed by the enormous German army. England, however, can rush troops across the channel in a very short time and it is believed orders to do this have already been prepared. If the troops go, Lord Kitchener will very likely be placed in supreme command.

All Want Kitchener

All England feels that Lord Kitchener, the hero of Khartoum, must direct her destinies in the conflict with Germany. There is tremendous agitation for the appointment of Kitchener as war minister. It was officially announced today that, though he has not been appointed to the post, he has been in the war office and has assisted. Lord Haldane has also been assisting in the war office.

It was not until 12:40 a. m. today that the cabinet adjourned its war council, following the declaration against Germany. In the meantime the wildest demonstrations were in progress in the streets. Great crowds carrying intertwined union jacks and tri-colors paraded about Buckingham palace, the admiralty and war offices, singing "God Save the King," "Rule Britannia" and the Marseillaise.

The mayor of Margate has reported to the authorities here that tremendous firing can be heard there from the direction of the North sea. It is believed that German and British warships are engaged.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Bear
Story — Up on the Mountain.

"WILLIE JONES was saying today that when he grew up he was going to kill bears, like Colonel Roosevelt," said Jack, while Evelyn looked, as most little girls look when their brothers speak of taking life in any way. "That must be an awfully brave way to spend your time," Jack added.

Daddy laughed. "Well, sometimes it is and sometimes it isn't. It depends upon circumstances. I'll have to tell you a little story to illustrate my point. It happened up on big Owlface mountain, in the Adirondacks. They called it Owlface mountain because its summit, which was a big granite cliff, looked just like an owl's face when seen from a certain direction.

"This story happened a good many years ago. There were not many people who lived near the mountain then—just a few scattered farmhouses. In one of these houses lived a family that had ten children of all sizes.

"Now, these children had a little boy cousin who lived in the city, and he came to see them one summer, and he had the finest time he'd ever had.

"One day the children's father proposed to all the children that he would take them up Owlface mountain to pick blackberries. 'But we won't go so very far,' he said, 'for there have been bears around lately, and I will take my gun along. We might need it.'

"So they all went berrying and picked a great many. They kept all together and had just come to a great bush that was loaded down when the little city boy gave a big yell and turned and ran, with every other one of the ten little cousins at his heels.

"For what do you think he and the other children had seen, Evelyn? A great big black bear had risen from behind that big bush and glared at them. Yes, sir! You know bears like berries, and the children had disturbed him at his feast. Oh, how they ran down that mountain, crying and yelling! And they listened for the gunshot that would tell them that daddy had shot Mr. Bear, but it didn't come.

"And by and by they heard a great crashing behind them and ran the faster, thinking it was the bear. But then they heard somebody laughing ever so hard and calling to them to stop, and it was the ten children's papa, all out of breath with running and laughing.

"Why didn't you shoot the bear, daddy?" asked the fifth child.

"I didn't get the chance," he replied. "He was as scared as you kids were and ran the other way into the woods as fast as he could."

"So you see," finished daddy, "you can't shoot a bear unless he's brave enough to let you."

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

MISS MILTON'S SECRET

By JEAN DICKERSON

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Tap—tap—tap came steadily from the other side of the closed door. Paul Lambert's attention wandered from the letter he was reading, to keep count of the tapping taps of the typewriter keys in the adjoining office.

"Five hundred—love, she must be tired!" he thought.

Simpson Fox, who had fallen into the habit of lounging around Paul's office at odd hours, was counting the taps, also. He looked up from his newspaper and a grin overspread his smug little countenance.

"You certainly work your stenographer to death, Paul," he chided playfully.

"You didn't stop to tell me that," remarked Paul, coldly.

Simpson laughed without embarrassment. "You know perfectly well that I've been dropping in to catch a glimpse of that young goddess—in other words, Ava Milton, formerly of Fifth avenue, now of a sober, down-town business office. The secret is out."

Paul tossed down the letter and turned a frowning face upon the idler. "If I thought you really meant that, Simp," he said grimly, "I'd throw you out of the place."

"All because I admire your private secretary and would like to renew my acquaintance with her?" flared Simpson.

"Any one is at liberty to admire my employees," said Paul, carefully choosing his words, "but I cannot subject any of them to annoyance."

"Perhaps it wouldn't be annoying to Miss Milton," retorted the other, hotly. "Perhaps I knew Miss Milton before her father went to smash and she was compelled to forsake the drawing room for the counting room. Perhaps I was one of her friends. Perhaps she was engaged to marry me."

Paul stared at him, growing repugnance mixed with the vague jealousy of the angry little man before him. Suddenly he shrugged his shoulders and turned away. What mattered it to him whether the beautiful young woman who was seriously earning her daily bread in his employ looked with favor upon this scion of the house of Fox? What mattered it to Paul whether she married Fox or not? Most people would say it would be an excellent thing for Ava Milton, for Simpson was rich beyond dispute.

"Perhaps she was engaged to me," persisted Simpson aggressively.

"It seems incredible—nevertheless it may be true," admitted Paul Lambert rising to his lank height and quite towering over the tubby form of Mr. Fox. "May I suggest that the proper place to renew your acquaintance with Miss Milton is in her own home."

"Thanks for the hint, Lambert—I'll make a note of it," returned the other, having recovered his ruffled temper. "How about your running down to Alrehill for some gold? I'm going to have a jolly crowd next week end."

The door opened and Miss Milton entered, a sheaf of typewritten letters in her hand. She was a tall, slender girl, gowned in black with white bands at throat and wrist. She flashed a cool nod in Simpson Fox's direction as she passed to Lambert's desk.

"I will dictate another letter, Miss Milton," said Paul. "Sorry you've got to go, Simp," he added meaningfully to that indignant youth. "Come in again in a week or two—and about that golf, I'm sorry, but I can't come. Thanks. By!" he called.

"I am ready," said Ava Milton. Paul picked up the letter he had been reading. "Henry R. Derwent," he dictated slowly, "care the Imperial Rubber Company, San Jose, Costa Rica. My dear Henry—Yours of the 18th received, and after careful deliberation I have decided to adopt your suggestion and come down to San Jose to investigate the affairs of the company. Wentworth will take care of my business until I return, and if the climate is as agreeable as you describe and conditions as ideal, I shall remain until the last of the year. Will advise you within a few days my date of sailing. Faithfully yours, Paul Lambert."

"I would like to get that letter off tonight, Miss Milton," added Paul, half apologetically, as she went away.

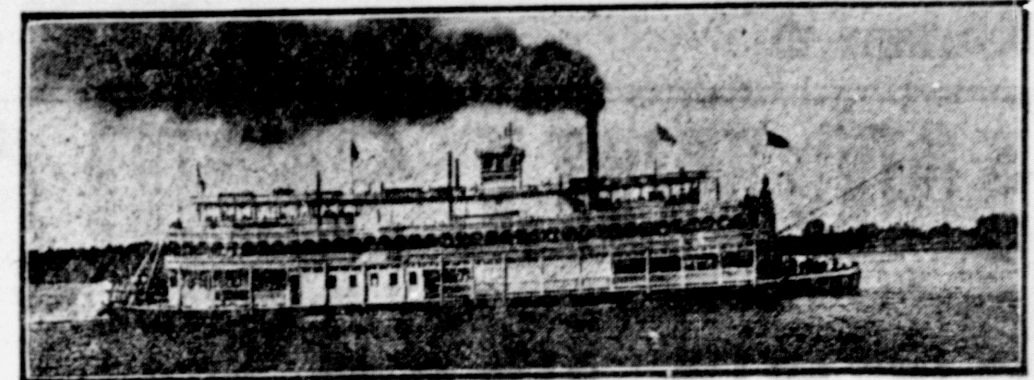

"Certainly," she said, with respectful courtesy. Tap—tap—tap came from the next room as Ava Milton typed the words of the letter that gave definite form to Lambert's plan to go to Costa Rica.

He listened now, feeling a great reluctance to go away from—what? He rose and paced the floor restlessly. Never before had he interested himself in the several young women who had from time to time occupied the adjoining office and typed his letters and briefs. Some of them had been more attractive than Ava Milton, but not one had ever possessed the charm of her rare smile; the cool impersonal glance of her beautiful eyes.

"Hang it all, it's a good thing I'm going away," he muttered crossly. "I'd be making a complete fool of myself. Better go down there to Costa Rica and give Simp another chance. Probably she'll snap him up this time—if she cares for gold."

Paul knew that Ava Milton didn't care for money—if she had she never would have entered the dull down-

ENGLISH POOR SUFFER

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The poor of England are already suffering as the result of the war. Retail prices of foodstuffs have doubled. All commerce has been checked and nearly every British harbor has been closed by the authorities. There is only an average supply of food on hand but the authorities say that as soon as the German fleet is destroyed or bottled up in German waters ordinary steamship sailings will be resumed.

RELIEF FROM DYSPEPSIA

All conditions of depressed vitality tend to disturb the processes of digestion. There is not a disturbed condition of life that may not affect digestion. Few causes of indigestion are so common as thin, weak blood. It affects directly and at once the great processes of nutrition. Not only is the action of the gastric and intestinal glands diminished but the muscular action of the stomach is weakened. Nothing will more promptly restore the digestive efficiency than good red blood. Without it the normal activity of the stomach is impossible.

Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity and the first result is hunger. The dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasurable anticipation. Care now in the selection and quantity of food will put the patient well on the road to health. A diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Spend Your Holiday on a Western Ranch

Out in the ranch country of the West, around Sheridan, Wyoming, or in the Cody Country, where Buffalo Bill founded the town of Cody, or in the Black Hills of South Dakota, the practice has grown for the good ranch people there to provide for Summer boarders and I don't know any more interesting and pleasurable way of spending one's vacation with the wife and children, than to go out on one of those ranches, and ride and fish trout (great fishing out there), and eat good, plain, substantial food, and sleep—my! how one does sleep after days spent exercising in that wonderful mountain air. This "Ranch Vacation" is a novel idea, but very easy to accomplish, for I can tell you all about what you can do and how to do it and what it will cost and what you can get and all about it. Just write and let me suggest a plan for you to follow.

Pe-ru-na

Mr. W. H. Chaney, R. F. D. 2, Sutherland, Pittsylvania Co., Va., writes: "For the past twelve months I have been a sufferer from catarrh of the head. Since taking four bottles of your Peru-na I feel a different person altogether. The severe pains in my head have disappeared, and my entire system has been greatly strengthened. This is my first testimonial to the curative qualities of any patent medicine, but I feel it a duty to mankind to let them know of the greatest medicine on earth—Peru-na—in my estimation for the above trouble."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peru-na Tablets.

AS SOCIALISTS SEE THE LAY OF THE LAND

Let's have a look at the Wisconsin political situation as seen through the eyes of the socialists. We'll find it interesting—and profitable, if we heed. The following editorial is quoted from the Milwaukee Leader, the organ of the social democrats of that city:

To destroy root and branch what they call "near socialism" in the state—to repeal the income tax law, repudiate state insurance, blind and gag the state industrial commission, limit the activities of the University of Wisconsin to "harmless learning," obliterate everything really progressive the state has adopted in the past decade—two men, representatives of the financial oligarchy in the state, met together in Milwaukee last spring and framed a political scheme which is now slowly but surely being worked out.

Incidentally, they planned not only to stifle progress in the state, but also to defeat the only progressive organization in Milwaukee county, the social democratic party.

These two men were Otto H. Falk of the Falk and Allis-Chalmers companies, former president and now a director of the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' association, and a militia official, and Paul D. Carpenter, a corporation attorney, legislative lobbyist for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association.

Falk is nominally a republican and Carpenter is a democrat, which shows the truth of the statement that special interests have no politics.

Realizing the value of the high tax cry . . . as a whip to help drive from office a reform element which had beaten them for years, these gentlemen conceived the idea of putting up a frankly reactionary candidate for governor and trusting to the high tax plea and the discord in the progressive ranks to "slip him over."

For this job they chose E. L. Philipp, one of their number, politically notorious for his anti-La Follette Eleventh Story league activities.

Philipp was at first indifferent to their scheme, but was finally won over, and at "a great popular uprising" at Madison was named a republican candidate for governor.

At some stage of the game before the formal nomination of Philipp, just when The Leader has been unable to learn, Falk and Carpenter called into their counsel Thomas J. Neacy, manufacturer, well known for his political and court activities in behalf of capitalism, and Harry W. Bolens, Port Washington, manufacturer-politician, and president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association. It was Bolens, by the way, who prosecuted the action to knock out the state income tax law.

The selection of Bolens is significant of the Falk-Carpenter plans. It was through Bolens' organization, the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, that they hoped to line up as many cities as possible in the state for Philipp, Bolens being assigned, presumably, to do gumshoe personal and correspondence work with the various local manufacturers' associations. The fact that Philipp in his speaking campaign is generally avoiding the cities and "handshaking" the farmers, is further indication of this scheme. If Philipp can scare enough farmers to death with his high tax harangue—and farmers are very touchy about taxes—his work and Bolens' work together may get sufficient votes to turn the trick.

M'GOVERN THE NON RESPONSIBLE

The Racine Call, a vigorously progressive paper of Racine, rises to the defense of Lieut. Gov. Thomas Morris in a strong editorial in which it pays its respects to Governor McGovern as the one man more than all others responsible for the tax bobble.

Following is a portion of the Call's article:

There can be no two ways about it. The high taxes to which the state was subjected the past year were due to carelessness in allowing unwarranted appropriations or a wilful desire to foist upon the taxpayers an unnecessary burden. Furthermore McGovern turned down an opportunity to remedy the situation when he rejected the proposition for a special session of the legislature to reduce the tax levy.

Already many attempts are being made by McGovern's friends and the State's friends to implicate Tom Morris by insisting that as Lieutenant Governor he was as much to blame for the appropriations as was McGovern. This is plainly untrue. As presiding officer of the senate, Morris had little opportunity other than in an advisory capacity to influence appropriations. That he deprecated the excessive expenditures was plainly evidenced at various stages of the proceedings but his protests were of no avail and when he headed the petition for a special session to right the wrong which had been done his pleadings were unceremoniously rebuffed.

Fair minded men regardless of their attitude on McGovern's candidacy for the United States Senate cannot but admit that he and his personal advisors at Madison were directly responsible for high taxes and while La Follette's statement will intensify this knowledge it contains no element not heretofore fully recognized.

McGovern plainly must face the music.

MORE UNIVERSITY
"PERNICIOUS ACTIVITY"

We quote the following editorial from the Beloit Daily News:

The other day Prof. Sanders of the economic entomology department of the University of Wisconsin came to Beloit to help solve the problem of the army worm, which had made its appearance in the fields in this vicinity.

So many calls have come to Prof. Sanders and his assistants this summer that they have had to forego their vacations in order to serve the agricultural interests of the state. The grasshopper problem came earlier in the season farther to the north and other insect pests have been so troublesome that he has felt it his duty to try to show the farmers how they could be stamped out.

Here we have it again. The same old story of the "pernicious activity" of the state university. Meddling with farmers' business, as of old. Always increasing acreage, inventing milk tests, safeguarding health and property, paying new ways to prosperity and independence. Down with this impudent interference! Beat a retreat to "safe and sane" education! Back to "the good old days!"

The Summer

I love the old-fashioned summer,
I love oppressive heat;
I love to feel the sun's rays
Upon my old head beat.
I dote on perspiration,
To sweeter is my choice;
For ninety-seven weather
I raise my plaintive voice.
Humidity's a stand-by
I could not live without.
When street asphalt is burning
I raise a joyful shout.
I love the blinding duststorms,
On thunderstorms I dote;
I also love mosquitoes,
For prickly heat I vote.
It is the finest weather
That ever yet was made,
When mercury's recording
One hundred in the shade.
I love to sit and sweeter,
Expecting I will melt,
When there's no shade or shelter
And no breeze to be felt.
I love the good hot weather
When I seem all on fire.
I know what you are thinking;
You're thinking I'm a liar.

Taking Life Easy

United States Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina is always supplied with a stock of good southern tales.

"In the southern part of Arkansas," relates Mr. Overman, "where the natives take life easy, a man and his wife were one day sitting on the porch when a funeral procession passed the house. The man was comfortably seated in a chair which was tilted back on its hind legs against the side of the house and was engaged in whittling on a piece of wood. As the procession proceeded he said:

"I reckon 'ol man Williams has got about the biggest funeral that's ever been held around hyer, Caroline."

"A purty good sized one, is it, Bud?" queried his wife, making no effort to move.

"You betcher!" Bud answered.

"I certainly would like to see it," said the woman. "What a pity I ain't facin' that way!"—Everybody's Magazine.

The Bargain Off

The sailor—Don't be alarmed, miss, but the steamer has sprung a leak and is quite likely to sink within fifteen minutes.

The young woman—Mercy, how very sudden!

"Yes, miss. Will you let me add that I mean to do my best to save you, miss?"

"Thank you, sir, but, of course, I can't be saved unless my chaperon is saved, too."

"Very stout lady with the hook nose?"

"Yes."

"Good-night, miss." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Very Foreman Rome Needed

The new foreman was a hustler. Nothing escaped his eagle eye, and whenever he saw a workman suffering from a tired feeling he quickly woke him up.

So when he discovered a bricklayer snatching a quiet pipe behind his

A lingering cough or cold which does not yield to ordinary treatment, should be a warning. Preventive measures should be taken, at once. In many cases, Eckman's Alternative has brought about recovery. Read this:

"Gentlemen:—In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty short cough; consequently I failed in health. I then went to the Catskills, and seemed to get better, but the cough still kept up. I stayed there for one year, and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man. About the time of my return, my brother recommended Eckman's Alternative very highly. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. SKIN TROUBLE
ON HANDS AND FEET

Similar to Ringworm. Tiny Clear Blisters. Skin Rough and Cracked Open. Could Scarcely Use Hands. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Completely Rid of Trouble.

Caseville, Mo.—"My hands and feet were affected with a trouble similar to ringworm for a number of years. It first appeared as tiny clear blisters and in places the blisters were so close together that they almost formed one large blister. The skin was rough and cracked open. At times it was so bad that it disabled me; my hands became so sore that I could scarcely use them.

"I used every remedy that I could find but nothing seemed to do any good. Finally I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I then got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment which completely rid me of the trouble." (Signed) Ray Bryant, Mar. 14, 1914.

Samples Free by Mail

A generation of mothers has found no soap so well suited for cleansing and purifying the skin and hair of infants and children as Cuticura Soap. Its absolute purity and refreshing fragrance alone are enough to recommend it above ordinary skin soaps, but there are added to these qualities delicate yet effective emollient properties derived from Cuticura Ointment, which render it most valuable in overcoming a tendency to distressing eruptions and promoting skin and hair health. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

"What do you think you're paid for? Get on with your job if you don't want to get fired pretty sharp."

"All right, boss," rejoined the workman. "Keep your 'air on. Rome wasn't built in a day, you know."

"That may be," rejoined the hustler, "but I wasn't foreman of that job."

The Optimist

Rev. Bouck White, whose six months' jail sentence for interrupting the services in John D. Rockefeller's church has been sustained on appeal, is noted for his happy fund of anecdotes.

"I detest the shallow optimist," Mr. White said at a recent vegetarian banquet in New York. "I detest the shallow optimist who, shutting his eyes to the numberless evils that surround us, insists that the world is getting better."

"This man, in fact, reminds me of the nurse whose mistress said:

"Was Johnny good at the party, nurse?"

"Oh, yes, ma'am," she replied. "He only broke two vases and kicked four little girls."

A Cynical Judgment

Representative Taylor was talking in Demopolis about a political project of which he was disappointed.

"I can't help feeling cynical about it," he said. "I feel, in fact, as cynical as Hogg's wife at the seashore."

"With her little son and a couple of girl friends," Mrs. Hogg returned from the beach one Saturday afternoon, and as they passed down the long hotel corridor with its numbered bedroom doors, one of the young girls said:

"Oh, I wonder if Mr. Hogg has arrived yet for over Sunday?"

"Mrs. Hogg answered with a cynical laugh:

"Clank the baby's bucket and shovel together, and spray a little of that Eau de Venus in the air, and George, if he's within half a mile of us, will stick his head out of the door to flirt with the chambermaid."

Enough Left Over

Mrs. Ives had entertained her bridge club, and as she had to prepare considerable food, having gotten her hand in, she decided to invite a few people to whom she was indebted for the next evening.

She made out her list of guests and sent her little daughter Eleanor to deliver the invitations. Eleanor's first stop was at Mrs. Jordan's. She got the invitation and as she was about to depart, Mrs. Jordan said:

"Why, Eleanor, I'm afraid your mother is undertaking too much, after having had the bridge club last evening."

"O, I guess not," replied the child. "I heard her tell father this morning that there was stuff enough left for three parties."—In National Monthly.

WAS THIS YOUR BABY?

A well-to-do Wisconsin family entertained unexpected guests at dinner. The housewife found that there was an insufficient amount of milk in the ice-box. The maid was hurriedly sent to a nearby grocery to purchase milk in the emergency. This milk was given to three small children.

Three or four days later, the youngest of the children was taken violently ill. The other children were less so. After castor oil and starvation for twenty-four hours, the latter children recovered promptly. The first child grew progressively worse. The symptoms were those of a severe intestinal poisoning. A physician was called.

For two weeks, under the care of skillful trained nurses, the child struggled to live. His anxious parents hovered about his bedside and outside his door. They beseeched the doctors to work harder, to call other specialists to do something new.

Seldom have physicians fought as those men did or watched more carefully.

The child was doomed. His abdomen was stretched to the tensest of a drum head by the gas resulting from the disease. His face and the rest of his body wasted pitifully. Delirium, pain, and exhaustion of the child, finally caused the parents to welcome his death for the rest and relief it promised.

That baby was a martyr to bad milk regulation; a martyr to personal ignorance of the danger of giving a child milk of unknown origin. This was not an uncommon instance. It was the frequent repetition of such cases that led physicians, nurses, health officers and visitors of the poor to band together in the fight for higher milk standards. Baby welfare organizations were formed to teach parents "who didn't know" and parents "who didn't think."

The many such cases led commercial milk dealers to improve their methods of handling and distributing milk, in order that they should not continue to be accomplices in the "slaughter of the innocents."

Out of all this has come a recognition by housewives that good milk is worth more than poor milk; that more should be paid for it and that germ infested, filthy milk is not cheap at any price. The final result has not yet been reached. Already, however, there has been a tremendous lessening of infant disease and death. Money formerly paid for deadly cold mixtures, doctors, nurses, not to mention little white boxes and the rental of the little white hearse, has been saved.

Truly, we parents of today owe much to the little martyrs of yesterday. Let us utilize the wealth of understanding and knowledge inherited by us. Let us in turn, increase that wealth and pass down to the unborn generations a better inheritance and better hospitality.

Public Spirit

"Why doesn't somebody build on this vacant lot? You seem to be short on civic enterprise."

"Quite the contrary, stranger. The man who owns that lot has too much public spirit to build on it."

"How do you make that out?"

"That's where the circus shows when it comes to town."

Hotter Than Our Sun.

Scientific research shows that the sun has a temperature of 4,950 degrees; Aldebaran, that beautiful star in Taurus, 5,150 degrees; the polar star, 5,200 degrees, and the dog star Sirius, 7,500 degrees. This goes to show that the sun is undoubtedly one of the coldest of the stars. It also is evidence that the absurdly low temperatures of the earth which living things here consider hot are, as compared with the heavenly bodies, regions of frigidity. Even the electric furnace, with its 3,500 degrees of heat, is as ice compared with temperatures in the dog star and the others.—New York American.

John Desmond, age 80, proprietor of a saloon on the north side, will start on September 1 on foot for San Francisco. His route will cover approximately 2,500 miles. He will try and prove that what Edward Payson Weston did, he can do. Desmond was out of his "teens" when the civil war broke out, but in spite of his years is hearty and capable of performing feats of which a boy would be proud.

It is Desmond's plan to carry a letter from Mayor Ori Sorenson to the mayor of San Francisco. He will be given a purse if the trip is completed in five months and fifteen days. The Eagles' lodge, of which he is a member, will present this to him.

He will be unattended throughout the entire trip. Desmond has the entire route figured to a nicety and has calculated the distance that he can safely go each day of the journey.

Desmond is at the present time spending the greater part of each day in walking. The old man walks from the north side down town each day, returns and often walks to Rice Lake in the same day.

CLOTHIERS TODAY CHALLENGE EAGLES

The La Crosse Clothing company baseball team, at a meeting last night, voted to challenge the La Crosse Eagles for a series of three games to be played as soon as possible. The terms of the challenge include a purse of $100 and the gate receipts to the winners. The challenge also stipulates that each team use its regular lineup. As yet, the Eagles have taken no action on the challenge, although Manager Ritter expects the club to accept.

The Clothiers assert that they have been obliged to cancel a return date with the Nekoosa club through inability to secure the ball park.

BRITISH DUKE IN ARMY OF FRANCE
LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Duke of Westminster has joined the French army as a volunteer with the permission of the war office and will be attached to the French general staff. A desire to get into action immediately was responsible for his action but the announcement was expected to have a good effect in increasing the friendly feeling between the French and the British.

Vengeance.
No doubt you have heard a woman tell of the horrible things she would do if a man should strike her. We have often wondered what terrible things a woman would do under such circumstances and today insisted upon an angry woman telling. After thinking awhile she said, "I'd hate him all the rest of my life."—New York Sun.

MORAL POWER.
None of us can live well by an occasional good resolution. Everything depends on storing up in ourselves, by a habit of right willing and well doing, a great and ever increasing fund of moral power, which shall always be available to brace us against sudden temptation, to help us carry out our better purposes and to hold us steady and true to the ideal.

DRAYS MUST NOT STAND ON STREETS

Express drivers who have formerly left their teams stand on corners in the vicinity of Market square have been ordered to stand their teams on the square.

AIR FLEET CALLED TO DEFEND PARIS

PARIS, Aug. 5.—A call has been issued for volunteers from the aviation corps to form a special airplane fleet for the defense of Paris. It is the plan of the war office to hold the volunteer corps in reserve in the capital to resist any attack that might be attempted by a fleet of German Zeppelins.

PARIS APACHES LOOT

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Apache looters in Paris will be shot down. This was the warning of the military authorities today following an outbreak of looting during the night. Shops and stores were broken open before troops swept down upon the apaches and arrested 450. All will be court martialed.

CANCELS MAIL CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Postmaster General Burleson today cancelled trans-Atlantic mail contracts with British steamers, leaving United States, Holland and Sweden as the only nations carrying United States mails. The service, he said, is slow but certain.

Parable of Life.
There is a wireless telegraph apparatus in a certain home and the boys explain that they can only receive but not send. "It takes power to send, and power costs." So they fling out their aerial to catch messages from far and near, and never send a message in return. The incident is a parable of life.

REGRETS.
Try to so direct your thoughts, your words, your actions, your whole life, in short, that regrets can find no room for intrusion. Regrets never follow virtuous actions. No one is sorrowful because, in looking back on his past life, he sees that it has been self denying and full of labor for others. If he does grieve at the retrospect it is because his efforts have been so imperfect and because he has done far less than it was his duty to do.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria to be a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Hess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegell Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdau, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unceasing sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

CITY OFFICIALS PICNIC AT DRESDEN

Yesterday saw the officialdom of La Crosse transferred from offices of the city hall to Dresden park, opposite Dresbach, where sixty city officials and a few invited friends held their annual picnic.

A large launch left prior to the departure of the passenger launch loaded to the guards with eatables and liquid refreshments for the entire day.

That the picnic committee made the biggest kind of a success in their arrangements of plans and that the officials had a good time in general was found when on the return trip more merriment was evidenced than when going.

CHIEF STARTS WAR ON AUTO SPEEDERS TWELVE CAUGHT

Webber Rounds up Offenders Last Night in Three Hours' Trip Along Good Highways

LAW VIOLATIONS NOT FLAGRANT

Official Says That Those Caught Were Not Burning Up The Road—Got Every Offender

NOT TO TAKE THEM INTO COURT

First Offense Will Get All Off With Reprimand But Second Will Mean Fine of $17.50

Police Chief John B. Webber last night went after auto speeders with the result that this morning twelve owners received letters telling them of their offenses and warning them that a repetition of their speeding will mean a charge and a fine of $17.50.

For three hours last night the head of the La Crosse police department patrolled streets and roads leading into the city. He drifted along behind cars, to get the number and with a light over the speedometer was at all times informed as to the exact speed of the car ahead.

Chief Webber said this morning that the daredevil driver is an exception in La Crosse and that most of the offenders caught last night were people who were exceeding the limit purely through thoughtlessness. "La Crosse auto drivers as a whole," said Chief Webber today, "are careful. It is true that there is an occasional speed fiend who defies all laws and with utter disregard for life or property dashes through the city and along highways outside of the city at Barney Oldfield speed. The offenders caught last night will not be taken into court. They will today receive notices that a repetition of the offense will mean a court case."

Alderman B. C. Smith on several occasions has told the council of the police department's alleged failure to enforce the speed law. Alderman Mahoney is another who believes the auto laws in La Crosse should be rigidly enforced.

ENGLAND DREADY TO SEND ARMY TO BELGIAN AID

and British warships is reported in the North sea off Hull. Advice from that coast city say that firing has been heard since day break. It is believed that the battle is between British and German scout ships, as the main column of the German fleet is still reported as being close to the German naval base at the mouth of the Elbe.

German Ambassador Lichnowsky called at the foreign office at ten o'clock, received his passports and arranged for Ambassador Page of the United States to take over the archives of the embassy. Soon after England declared war upon Germany the ambassador was requested to call for his passports.

War on at 7 O'clock
The Kaiser's reply to the British ultimatum was a declaration of war. It was received at the foreign office at 7 p. m. Tuesday. The British government then waited until the expiration of the ultimatum, in order to keep its record clear, and immediately after midnight issued a declaration of war against Germany. The British officially hold that England declared war, as the declaration by the Kaiser was not officially announced.

Volunteers Flock In
Volunteers are flocking to army headquarters. The war spirit has spread everywhere. It is announced that the war office will accept all offers of troops from the colonies, but that no arrangements for transporting them will be made until it is certain where they will be needed. In the house of commons this afternoon, Premier Asquith announced that Germany declared war on England at 7 o'clock last night. At that hour, he said, the British ambassador was handed his passports by the German foreign office.

The premier then announced that he would ask that the house vote a credit of $500,000,000 for war purposes tomorrow.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Premier Asquith today announced the acceptance of the resignations of Viscount Morley and John Burns from the cabinet. Both resigned in protest against the British war policy.

BOY SCOUTS CALLED

LONDON, Aug. 5.—One thousand Boy Scouts were ordered today for service in the war with Germany. General Baden-Powell, head of the Boy Scout organization, today informed the war office that this number of English lads were ready for such service as guarding bridges, protecting telephone and telegraph wires, and carrying dispatches.

AUSTRIAN OFFICERS IN THE FIELD

These are the Austrian officers who will conduct the war against Serbia in the field and against Russia if the czar interferes. The photograph was taken at recent maneuvers of an army corps.

U. S. COMMUNICATION WITH GERMANY IS CUT PROBABLY BY ENGLISH

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The German Cable company's cables to Germany have been cut. Announcement was made today that the company cannot reach the Azores station, which is the first landing of the line. The British cruiser Berwick, one of the fleet of British vessels off the North American coast, is especially equipped for cable laying and repairing and the assumption here is that she may have cut the German line.

Cutting of the cables leaves the United States without any direct means of communication with Germany.

The English cables are still working, although censorship is slowing up all messages several hours.

Cable companies announced this afternoon that Germany was isolated from communication. The Commercial cables, via Azores, were cut. The Western Union Cable company has been ordered by London not to accept business addressed to points in a nation with which England is at war. There is now no way in which word can come by cable from Germany except through Russia or British censors.

MUSKRAT CLUB ANNUAL OUTING

Large Crowd Participates in Big Event on Crosby Point Sunday—Many Initiated

With fully 150 attending the annual picnic of the "Muskrat club" was held at Crosby Point Sunday.

Captain George Holzhammer, "Chief Muskrat," headed the fleet as she steamed out of La Crosse harbor early Sunday morning and he acted as escort through the dangerous straits and channels to the point.

There the outers, accompanied by a 20 piece band, found awaiting them a young steer, ready for serving. The afternoon was featured by contests and the initiation of new members, among the latter being Dr. W. A. Bach, a local physician. George Ritter, candidate for sheriff, raced with George Holzhammer, the latter winning.

RIVER BETTERMENT AGENT IS IN CITY

E. L. Rose, field agent of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association, is in the city in consultation with John C. Burres of the executive committee and others with reference to local conditions and in forwarding the providing of suitable terminal facilities for the river traffic. Field Agent Rose after visiting all the larger cities from St. Louis to La Crosse is exceedingly optimistic on the subject of early development, and with a number of cities now building their improvements and others planning and taking the initial steps for their provision insists that La Crosse should begin actively to take advantage of early barge line movements.

ACCUSED OF THEFT

R. E. Melle, a resident of La Crosse for two months, was charged in the county court this afternoon with the theft of a quantity of leather bettling from the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company. Melle was arrested by the police on a charge of vagrancy and today the charge of theft was placed against him. He pleaded guilty. His case was continued until August 12.

PICK OFF AVIATORS

BRUSSELS, Aug. 5.—A German aviator flew across the Belgian defenses outside of Liege today. He was greeted with a storm of bullets and literally shot to pieces, falling to the ground in the middle of the Belgian forces. Other German aviators who had been seen in the distance flew back to the German lines.

REPORT FIRING ON COAST OF AMERICA

Naval Battle in Waters of United States Just Outside 3-Mile Limit is Suspected

EUROPEAN CRUISERS ALONG COAST

German, French and English Warships Known to be Hurrying Shipping in Atlantic

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Reports from passengers on incoming liners of heavy firing off Sandy Hook, and news from Portland, Maine, that cannoning was plainly audible off that port this morning, inclines local port officials to believe that a naval engagement between vessels of the European powers now at war may be in progress outside the three-mile zone on the American coast.

The firing at Portland came from the direction of Seguin Island.

The firing was heard by many citizens and the keeper of the observatory stated that it was not thunder. Wireless stations here say that the German protected cruiser Karlsruhe and the cruiser Dresden were both in touch with this port last night, although they refused to indicate their position. The French cruisers Conde and Descartes have been reported as steaming northward and it is believed that if a fight took place some of these craft were engaged.

Off the Newfoundland coast an engagement was also reported. London dispatches partially confirm the story that the German cruiser Willehad was captured by British warships after a sharp fight.

Keeping within the three-mile limit of American's neutrality today saved the German steamer Frieda Leonhart, which arrived at Jacksonville, Fla., this afternoon. The merchant vessel was pursued for twelve hours by a British warship. She was sighted by the warship at Jupiter Inlet, and hugged the coast all the way into Jacksonville, while the British fighter kept a parallel course outside the three mile limit, waiting a chance to seize her.

APPROVES NAMES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Recommendation that Paul M. Warburg and Frederick A. Delano be confirmed as members of the federal reserve board was made to the senate today by the banking committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Coleville Barclay, British charge formally notified the state department that a state of war exists between England and Germany and requested the United States to act diplomatically for England in Germany. The United States readily agreed.

MOBS DESTROY EMBASSIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Russian embassy in Berlin and the German embassy in St. Petersburg have been destroyed by mobs and many persons injured according to dispatches today to the state department.

A. Schereatsky, counselor of the Russian embassy, said he was advised of the destruction of the two embassies by Secretary Bryan, who told the Russian attaché that the news came in the department's official dispatches today.

VATERLAND READY TO TRY VOYAGE

Giant German Liner Believed About to Attempt to Sail to Germany

REPORT FIRING ON U. S. COAST

Passengers on German Boats Tell of Cannonading off Sandy Hook at Dawn

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Hamburg-American liner Vaterland, biggest ship afloat, is making ready to slip out and run the gauntlet of British and French cruisers of the New York coast, in a desperate attempt to reach Germany. This was the belief here today, due to extraordinary preparations at the vessel's dock, the installation of special guards to prevent visitors on the dock, and the knowledge that Germany needs the 2,000 reservists now waiting in New York for transportation back home. The Hamburg-American line flatly denied that the vessel would sail.

The liner kept steam up all day today. She is on the German navy reserve list and is needed in the service as a supply and transport auxiliary.

Passengers who arrived on the Kaiser Wilhelm II and the President Lincoln today claim to have heard the firing of guns as they arrived at Sandy Hook about 3 a. m. Some of those who ventured on deck said that no ships were to be seen. The President Lincoln and the Kaiser Wilhelm II came into the outer harbor with all lights blanketed save the masthead and side signals.

Passengers of the President Lincoln told of a thrilling story of the flight of the liner before what was believed to be a hostile warship last night. Believing danger was passed, officers of the ship announced that the ball room might be lighted last night just as the dancing was at its height the watch sighted a long streak of light sweeping the southern horizon. It swept across the sky and then the water. Immediately stewards ran through the vessel again ordering lights out and the President Lincoln pressed forward, her engines under increased pressure. Even the mast and all sailing lights were extinguished and the big ship steamed along in total darkness. Not until the three mile limit was reached were the lights again turned on.

Germany." President Poincaré declared in his message to the chamber of deputies. "Her territory has been violated without a declaration of war. Until the last moment France attempted with supreme effort to avert war. The overwhelming responsibility is Germany's. War was suddenly declared upon Russia; Luxembourg was invaded and brave Belgians outraged insulted. Germany then tried treacherously to surprise France."

The military is now in complete control of Paris. After eight o'clock at night streets are deserted. Only newspapermen and others who may have permits are allowed outside their homes. Looting broke out during the night and 450 apaches were promptly seized and will be court martialled. Warning has been issued that apaches caught breaking into shops in the future may be shot down.

Reports of fighting at the front are appearing in newspaper extras and the full meaning of war is being impressed on the capital.

It was estimated that there are 6,000 Americans in Paris, all penniless and clamoring at the American embassy for news as to the action taken by the United States to rescue them. It will take $1,000,000 to relieve these Americans.

All regular police now on duty in Paris are men over 55 years of age. All others have joined the colors.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 5.—Under orders from the Canadian government preparations were made today for mining of the approaches to Glace bay, at which point is situated the terminal of the Commercial Cable company's cable. This step is taken to prevent cutting by German warships.

BARTENDERS MEET

J. E. Kush was last night appointed chairman of the Labor day committee of the Bartenders' union, at a meeting of the organization. George Selsheim and Jack McGibbon will also serve on the committee.

Discouragement Fatal

The mood of discouragement is a dangerous mood. In it we are liable to do any sort of reckless thing. Discouragement is most terrible when it becomes despair, and each of us faces the possibility of being plunged into it. Unless we have the right kind of strength the possible adversities of life may be too much for us.

SAILS FOR FRANCE WITH 1,200 TROOPS

Reservists Given Great Ovation by British, French and American Vessels as They Leave

LEAVETAKING BRINGS TEARS

Pathetic Farewells Mark the Departure of Young Frenchmen to Fight for Country

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The French liner Lorraine sailed today on a tide of tears. Aboard her were 200 French reservists. They answered the call to the tri-color. They sailed away, perhaps to death, following a pathetic leave-taking of their friends and dear ones. Splendidly dressed women who had come to bid saloon passengers God-speed, broke down, embraced the sturdy private soldiers of the reservists corps and comforted the sobbing mothers of the men with their kisses.

Great Demonstration

The soldier ship sailed out of New York harbor amid the greatest demonstration in years. British, American and French liners tied down their whistles to greet her. Only one liner, the great Vaterland, from whose flag-staff fluttered the red, white and black of Germany, did not join. The French reservists rushed to the sides to look at her and their yells of imprecation against Germany could be heard even above the din of whistles.

It was a stirring moment when French Consul Etienne Lanel formally presented the 1,200 reservists with the national standard. British sailors on the liner Minnehaha who heard the chorus of patriotism took up the cry of "Vive l'France."

Every person on board the Lorraine had a flag—either French or American. Just as the ship cleared, a man produced a big bundle and distributed souvenirs aboard ship—the Erin Go Bragh flag of Ireland entwined with the tri-color of France.

Many Weep

Above all the sounds of loading of the ships, the bustle and confusion on the docks could be heard the low moaning and weeping of those who were departing and those who were left behind.

Strong men crouched on the deck, their heads in their hands as they were bowed in prayer and tears. Groups comforted one another. Beside a group of men with streaming eyes was another of those whose tears were dried with the enthusiasm of going back to fight for France. Their excited comment was cheerful and confident.

Just before the vessel cleared the docks, some one started the Marseillaise. The departing ones took up the thrilling refrain in a chorus that swelled out over the docks.

By common consent, the reservists collected in the bow of the vessel. There as long as those who strained their eyes through a veil of tears could see them, they waved back some—most of them—weeping, but a few of the younger ones so overwhelmed with enthusiasm, that they fairly crowded toward the bow of the ship as if that brought them nearer to France.

RAILROAD STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Official telegrams signed by W. S. Stone, president of the B. & O. E., and W. S. Carter, president of the B. & O. F. & E., have been received by the local committee having charge of the engineer's and firemen's strike that was scheduled for August seventh, declaring the strike off.

"The committee is glad to be relieved from responsibility for a strike at a time like this," said a member today. "The issues will now be settled by arbitration under the Newlands act, and business will not be interfered with."

Under this act the award holds good for one year after it is affirmed, which means there will be no strike inside of a year and a half.

Events in Which Both Old and Young Participate Being Held There This Afternoon

Carrying a crowd of nearly 600 people, the Southeastern special train pulled out of the Burlington depot at 8:30 o'clock, bound for Camp Tate, where the Fifteenth annual picnic of the La Crosse Retail Grocers' association is being held today.

The picnicers were treated to an open air ride, flat cars having been provided instead of coaches.

These were gaily decorated and arranged with tiers of seats and a good time was in store was indicated by the rare enthusiasm and good humor of the La Crosse people as they boarded the "Coon Valley Limited."

Immediately after the arrival of the La Crosse people on the grounds the various "stunts" started. There were races and contests of every description. Various events in which both old and young participated, featured the day.

Harry Taggart, secretary of the association, was commander of the picnic train and it was largely through his efforts that the arrangements for the care and entertainment of the guests were made.

Camp Tate is a particularly beautiful spot along the Southeastern, and for several days members of the various committees had been "on the job" decorating the grounds, erecting stands and making everything ready for the outing. Five hundred chairs were distributed about the grounds for the comfort of those attending.

The party will leave on the return trip soon after supper time tonight.

DIFFERING BLOOD CORPUSCLES.

The crystals of the blood of a white man are extremely small, measuring less than one two-thousandth part of an inch in length and are shaped rather like thin bricks. The blood crystals of a negro appear like thin red plates, or long, thin, flat bars, easily distinguishable from those of a white man.

Her Birthday Present.

An attractive little girl at a party was being questioned about a doll she had just received for her birthday. The mother was beaming with delight at the attention her daughter was receiving, when the little girl said: "Why, do you know, the hair on my doll's head comes off just like mam-ma's."

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

BY HAL SHERIDAN

McGrawless—their manager having been "parked" for five days for toying with Umpire Byron's watch fob the other day—the Giants' momentarily checked their downward flight by harpooning the Cubs.

Twas a battle of southpaws—and Rube Marquard holds the honor of being the first Giant twirler to score a win over Jim Vaughn this season. And still those Braves win. Rudolph was rude, holding Fred Cralke's Pirates to a brace of bingles. Bob Harmon was good but not that good.

Slim Caldwell got chased from the box for the first time this year and the Tigers did it. They, clawed Chance's star flinger until all resemblance was gone.

The agile Mr. Pratt's great fielding and batting was a big factor in Earl Hamilton's victory over Shore. The win put the Browns at the top of the second column.

JOHNSON TO JOIN ARMY

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Jack Johnson, French citizen, wants to emulate the example of his rival for fistio honors, Georges Carpentier, and join the French army. Johnson is not yet a full-fledged French citizen, although he has taken out preliminary citizenship papers, and is therefore not required to answer the call to the colors. Johnson has already offered to the government his six automobiles.

EXECUTE ALSATIANS

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Seventeen Alsatiens, who were trying to enter France near Mulhausen in order to join the French army, were captured by German frontier guards. They were summarily executed by a firing squad.

HOLD SHIP IN CANADA

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 5.—By order of the admiralty the Allan liner Tunisian, due to sail for Canada today, has been held up. The reason assigned is the presence of German cruisers off the American coast.

Little Harold was sent to a neighbor's house on an errand. In due time he came back and was questioned by his mother what Mrs. Glichris' folks were doing. "They had company, and they were all talking in German," answered the lad, "but I couldn't tell what language they were laughing in."

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Wheat had a sharp upturn today after starting lower in the belief that England's entrance into the European war would bring about a blockade that would further limit the American market. Heavy buying on the dip sent prices 7-8 to 1 1/2c above last night's close.

Corn started a shade to 1-2c higher and had a sharp advance on a reported by a crop publication that the heat and dry weather had so affected the corn crop that the yield might not even equal the ten year average.

Oats were 1-2c higher at the start in a very nervous market and had further advance of 3-4 to 7-8c on account of the upward movement in wheat and corn.

Provisions were firm and sharply higher today. Buying was heavy on account of light hog receipts. Pork advanced 85 cents over yesterday's close and other lard and short ribs showed substantial gains.

Wheat continued its upward march in the afternoon, making additional gains of 1/2 to 1 cent. Corn showed light gains and oats went up 1/2 to 1 cent in a buying flurry.

Pork made a sudden jump of 70 cents in the afternoon, carrying other futures above their high noon marks.

F. R. A. DELEGATES RETURN

The delegates who represented the La Crosse council at the convention and dedication ceremonies at Oshkosh, have returned with reports of a big time. At the dedication Governor Francis E. McGovern was one of the principal speakers. Mr. Herman L. Ekern, insurance commissioner of the state, also gave a talk on the motto of the order, "Safety First." La Crosse was a strong candidate in the race for the next convention but lost by five votes, because of a previous understanding favoring Eau Claire.

CONVICTS FROM SING SING BUILD ROADS FOR NEW YORK STATE

Convict laborers' camp near Albany, N. Y.

Twenty prisoners from New York's famous Sing Sing prison are now quartered at Camp McCormick near Albany, in the first permanent camp of convict laborers established by the state. A similar number of men from the same institution will shortly follow and all will be engaged on the state highway up the Catskill mountains that will connect Albany with New York on the west side of the Hudson river.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

MONONA REJOICES OVER NEW LIGHTS

Final Connections Made and Iowa Town Gets Electric Light and Power From Monona

M'GREGOR, Ia., Aug. 5.—There was great rejoicing in Monona last Monday when final connections were made on the electric line which has been built by the G. S. Donaldson Light and Power company of McGregor for the conveyance of electric light and power from McGregor to Monona. At 6:30, Col. Otis, Monona's mayor, pressed the button and the electric lights flashed out along the streets and in the business places and residences.

The power line has been in course of construction since April. It is fourteen miles long and follows the military road west from McGregor, the main highway through this section of Iowa. Thirteen thousand volts of electricity are transmitted by the line from the sub-station at the town limits of McGregor to the station of W. A. and L. N. Wellman at Monona. The Wellmans buy the juice from the McGregor company and have a twenty-five year franchise to furnish it to Monona. The power line is well protected by lightning arrestors at the sub-station and an overhead wire along the whole system. Danger signs have been nailed on every tenth pole and extra high poles have been erected where schoolhouses have been passed. A big part of the undertaking was the transfer across the highway of twelve miles of telephone wires. The lines of the telephone companies which formerly occupied both sides of the highway are now confined to the north side leaving the south side free for the high tension line. Danger from the contact of wires is thus avoided.

An interesting feature about the new enterprise is the keen interest farmers are taking in it. The line passes through a remarkably rich farming country and nearly all of the more than one hundred farmers along it are preparing to use the current. Besides lighting their houses and barns the current will provide the power for a great variety of farm work such as pumping water, running the cream separators, feed mill, milking machines, silage cutters and washing machines.

Go to Convention
Clayton county was represented by ten delegates at the democratic state convention at Council Bluffs last week. They were: Hon. D. D. Murphy, Geo. Kriebs, C. E. Scholz, E. Bergemeyer, A. B. Albrecht, R. W. Schug, J. M. Berry, J. H. McLaughlin, E. E. Benton and Anton Huebsch.

Advertise Chautauqua
Fourteen auto loads of Monona people drove into McGregor in procession Friday carrying flags and banners proclaiming their Chautauqua August 5 to 9 and its big drawing card, an address by Senator Robert La Follette. The party drew up about Triangle Park and the band which accompanied them played several selections. The business men of Monona have given the Chautauqua company a guarantee of $1,000 and a very strong list of attractions is expected. An attendance of 5,000 is expected on Thursday when La Follette speaks.

To Replace Old Pontoon
The big new pontoon for the east channel between Prairie du Chien and North McGregor will be put in place this week. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company has been given authority by the war department of the government to close the channel to navigation during the three or four days which will be needed to replace the old boat with the new. Temporarily the powerboat from the old pontoon will be used on the new structure. The one which is now building will be attached and the boiler and machinery transferred during the closed season for navigation next winter.

Baby Boy Dies

BRITISH CRUISER CONVOYS LINER

Lusitania Sails From New York Under Protection of the Essex

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Cunard liner Lusitania is today racing for England under convoy of the British cruiser Essex. With 200 passengers aboard and a rich cargo, including $200,000 in gold, the liner slipped from her pier at 1:20 a. m. today and dashed out into the gloom of early dawn confident of eluding capture by three German war ships believed waiting to prey on British commerce.

The Essex convoyed the White Star liner Olympic into safety off the entrance to New York harbor last night and then slipped into the night awaiting the Lusitania.

Captain Dow's orders on the Lusitania were that every deck light should be extinguished, except the masthead and port and starboard signal lamps. Below decks port-holes were blanketed.

From wireless signals picked up here it is believed that at the present time there are three German cruisers and the converted liner Kron Prinz Wilhelm, three British cruisers and three French cruisers off the entrance to New York harbor. It is not believed the Germans will risk the chance of an encounter.

Ask Your Doctor ABOUT THE NEAL DRINK HABIT TREATMENT

It is always advisable to consult the family physician before seeking medical assistance from others. There are hundreds of physicians in Wisconsin and elsewhere who have investigated and know about the quick and satisfactory results of the Neal Treatment in Drink and Drug Addictions. If it should happen that your physician is not informed, ask him to write us for references to prominent physicians and full information—better still if you will arrange for him to come here with you; you can hold this as our agreement; that unless you and your physician are both entirely satisfied with the results accomplished at the end of your treatment we will refund you the entire amount paid.

There are no undesirable features in connection with the Neal Treatment. No painful or dangerous hypodermic injections. Patients are not deprived of liquor; no barred rooms or locked doors. A few days' stay at the Neal Institute and you can face the world a clean, healthy person, clear of eye and keen of mind. The Neal Institute, State and 17th Streets, Milwaukee, Wis.
